

DOCTORAL SCHOLARSHIPS IN CURRENT HISTORY OFFERED TO STUDENTS FROM LATIN AMERICA

- The Pierre du Bois doctoral scholarships have been established to encourage and support PhD theses in the field of current history.
- For the 2010 – 2011 academic year two scholarships will be offered to students from Latin America studying for a PhD in the Institute's International History and Politics programme.
- The successful scholarship holders will be exempt from tuition fees and will each receive CHF 20,000 to cover living expenses. Scholarships can be renewed for an additional year, provided the subjects of the theses correspond with the objectives of the Pierre du Bois Foundation and depending on first-year results.

Deadline for applications: 15 January 2010

Professor Pierre du Bois passed away suddenly in June 2007. He had been a member of the faculty of the Graduate Institute of International Studies for more than 15 years where he specialised in European integration and contemporary international relations. He is fondly remembered by faculty and students alike.
